STATE NEWS

Marshfield Record: Mrs. Fred Smith and Mrs. Claude Moon who returned from Powers last night said the building activity there is strenuous and most of the work is being prosecuted night and day. The Bob Wyatt restaurant building is nearly ready for occupancy and the Greek Coffee House building is nearing the finishing point. Taylor Brothers, who are erecting a large pool hall, will soon be ready to open. Ed Liddell, the butcher, is doing well and conducts a bakery in connection with his market. Constable Charles Zimmerman's new bungalow is about ready to move into and it is one of the handsomest homes in the town. There are several other residences being erected and families will be located in them soon. The Loney bank building will be started next Monday morning and the contractors have orders to have it finished as quickly as possible. The high school is being rushed and school will open as soon as rooms can be made ready.

Coos Bay Times: For a short course in the construction of good roads, the County Court members, Judge James Watson, W. T. Dement and G. J. Armstrong, left out this morning for Portland, where they will spend several days looking over the Columbia Highway and the roads of Multnomah county. Besides the commissioners, in the Coos delegation were G. T. Treadgold, of Bandon; A. G. Raab, of North Bend; Charles St. Dennis, of Lakeside, and W. A. Reid, of this city. Charles Hall, going north on business at this time, will also be a member of the party.

Albany Herald: The boundary line of a piece of land two and one-half miles north of Knox Butte belonging to Mrs. Alice C. Miller, an elderly woman who lives in the Knox Butte section, was established by an old "witness tree," when doubt arose. At the request of Mrs. Miller, surveyors chopped into it and cut out a piece of wood bearing the date, 1853, which was sawed on the tree 62 years ago by government surveyors when the tract was laid out as school land. The figures are remarkably preserved, despite the fact that they have been in the tree the three-score and two years.

Independence Enterprise: Postmaster Merwin has thrown his hat into the ring and is now actively in the race for re-appointment for postmaster. Mr. Merwin has surveyed the situation carefully and sees no reason why he should not again be re-appointed. Nearly all his life has been spent in the service of Uncle Sam, and for the past twelve years, has been the efficient postmaster of this city. During which time the office has shown a healthy growth in receipts each succeeding year and recently was advanced to a second class office. Mr. Merwin has made a good postmaster, and this alone is a recommendation much in his favor. He has the hearty support of many democrats and republicans.

Blue Mountain Eagle: All of the old junk connected with the telephone lines of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company operating in Canyon City has given way to new and modern equipment. All of the old poles were replaced with new ones. The wiring and insulation is now all first class. The company has been to considerable expense but the local patronage fully appreciates the efforts of the company to furnish them with the best service possible. The work has been under the direction of George W. Jones who was assisted with a corps of four men and it has taken about a month to complete the work.

Oregon Coast Tide: Charles Tilton, a Coos Bay fisherman who was drifting last night between Porter mill and the lower bay, when he drew in his net was surprised to find two large oysters entangled in the meshes. It is thought that the oysters were from some of the plantings which had been made in the bay. The largest of the two measured more than five inches in length.

Condon Times: W. M. Robinson, a trapper from the John Day country came to town Tuesday with a load of 20 coyote hides on his back which he turned over to the county and got his bounty. Mr. Robinson says he caught the animals between the Cotton Wood bridge and the mouth of Devils Canyon along the breaks of the river. He was no meat for bait and operates altogether with fish oil. The man certainly had some very beautiful specimens of coyote hides. G. H. Crane, who has been trapping on Thirtieth, brought two coyote hides. He says the quail along the river are increasing nicely, several families of the little birds having hatched out along Thirtieth.

Albany Democrat: Albany this week had a couple of notable events. It's dollar day was one of the biggest successes in the history of the city. It took like waffles on a cold day. Everybody was here for a bargain. The other was Albany's first industrial exposition, another immense success. The display was so creditable to create universal favorable comment. It will undoubtedly prove a fine thing for the city, as many outsiders were here to enjoy and appreciate it, the universal comment being one of praise.

Albany Democrat: L. Wilford, a prominent farmer at Knox's Butte, today met with a serious accident. He was at work in the golf pit, when it caved in on him, burying him to the neck. He was gotten out with difficulty. Dr. Higgs was called. It was thought he was internally injured, and his hip was crushed and he was otherwise injured. His condition is considered serious. At the same place two weeks ago A. J. Caldwell was injured by a cave in, from the effects of which he is slowly recovering.

THE MARKETS

The scarcity of eggs has brought the price locally up to 37 cents for candied, No. 1, with a trade price of 35 cents. No changes have taken place in the grain market since Saturday. While Portland is weak, the 84 cent figure for wheat still holds good, and very little is being offered even at this figure.

Sugar and flour, which started on an advance last week, are today at the same quotations as Saturday last.
